> ABOUT THIS WEBINAR

Bureau of Labor Statistics studies reveal healthcare workers are four (4) times more likely to be the victim of a violent assault than all other professions combined. Additionally, FBI studies show that from 2000-2018, over 4% of active shooter incidents occur in healthcare facilities which have resulted in 55 casualties. Current events, and other high-stress situations, like the COVID-19 pandemic, can send individuals aggravate mental health, financial, and other stressors sending persons down a pathway to violence. The Before: Run, Hide, Fight program is designed to help participants recognize behaviors that may aide in identifying and assessing persons who may be in the planning stages of an active shooter/threat incident.
